

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

To our dear matriculants

السلام عليكم ورحمة الله وبركاته

You are on the verge of your preliminary examinations, marking the first major step toward the finish line you have been working toward for the past twelve years. We understand how difficult this stage is. This is a short message to remind you that you should not forget your true value. While your marks may matter, they do not define your worth or potential. We wish each of you immense success in the exams, but also hope that this is an opportunity to build character, resilience, and commitment. Conduct yourselves with honesty and integrity. Take pride in your efforts and know that the du‘ās of an entire community are with you on this journey.

May Allah SWT grant you success in your exams. May He expand your chest, make your task easy, and place barakah in your knowledge and time.

May the most that you hope for be the least that you achieve.

Zakir Khan

On behalf of

Association of Muslim Schools South Africa

